

ONLINE THERAPLAY[®] AND MIM LEVEL 1 Play Therapy TRAINING FOUR-WEEK TRAINING: EVERY FRIDAY AFTEROON OCT. 8 TO 29, 2021

Theraplay[®] and The Marschak Assessment are combined in this four-week online training.

Theraplay[®] is a short-term, structured play therapy technique which focuses on enhancing attachments. It promotes self-esteem, language skills, behavioural skills, social skills as well as enhances relationships between significant others. Theraplay can be used with a single child, an entire family or with groups of children. Professionals around the world have been trained in Theraplay and are using Theraplay in a wide variety of settings and populations, including: Attachment therapy for foster/adopted children, Therapy for trauma and abuse victims, Therapy for children with behavioral and developmental problems, and Group settings such as schools and residential treatment facilities.

The Marschak Interaction Method Assessment (MIM) is a structured technique for observing and assessing the relationship between two individuals, for example, biological parent and child, foster or adoptive parent and child, supportive caregiver and child. It consists of a series of simple tasks designed to elicit a range of behaviours in four dimensions: engagement, nurture, challenge, and structure.

Learning objectives of this course include:

- Understanding of the history and theory of Theraplay.
- Increased knowledge on parent-infant attachment and self-esteem.
- Skill development in the differentiation and use of the four Theraplay[®] dimensions.
- Knowledge of how Theraplay[®] is used to meet the needs of children with regulation, trauma, special needs or developmental issues.
- Knowledge of how parents are guided to empathically observe and participate in Theraplay[®] sessions aimed at fostering better parent-child attachment.
- Knowledge of how to administer the MIM including methods of recording non-verbal and verbal behaviors, making inferences and formulating hypotheses;
- Knowledge of how a feedback, and parent practice sessions are conducted
- Knowledge of how the MIM is used as a guideline for planning treatment.

Online Theraplay training workshops are play therapy focused, intensive, theory based, supportive and rewarding. The number of participants is limited so each person can receive the special attention that makes for a good training experience. There are opportunities to:

- Observe webinars and review material at your own pace
- Participate once per week in an online video conference class with other participants and the trainer
- Learn from text, webinars, assignments and online video conference classes.
- Observe videotaped treatment of clients, including the assessment via the Marschak Interaction Method (MIM), feedback to the parents, parent practice session and Theraplay treatment clips.
- Learn how to use Theraplay within your own scope of practice.

Registration Form

This 4-week ONLINE play therapy training is open to qualified, licensed, certified or registered professionals in a field that prepares them to work with children and families.
